Hello,

Many agencies that we work with tell us that one of their biggest frustrations is compiling data for reporting. Want access to real-time performance data to put you in control of plan review?

We're excited to share our partner Avolve's upcoming live webinar: Avolve Insights: Find the Pulse of Your Plan Review.

Local government agencies generate significant amounts of plan to review data every day, yet turning that data into clear, actionable insight can be challenging. How effectively is plan review supporting development projects? Where are reviews slowing progress? And how can teams identify issues before applicants or staff feel the impact?

On February 25, the Avolve team will host a live session showcasing how Avolve Insights™ transforms plan review operational data into live dashboards and council-ready reports — without exports, external tools, or additional systems. Attendees will see how real-time visibility can help agencies understand whether their plan review processes are accelerating community growth or unintentionally creating delays.
